SITUATION UPDATE #29

Date: 10/09/10

Greetings from Nepal!

After the usual monsoon closure, our properties are now ready once again to welcome guests from around the world.

Tiger Tops Jungle Lodge: primed and polished with a monsoon refurbishment of rooms and the impressive Gol Ghar dining hall and bar, the lodge is now ready to welcome guests from September 15th, 2010. Oldest of the safari resorts and situated within Chitwan National Park, the lodge is easily accessible by road, flight, and by river raft (with Tiger Mountain's Himalayan River Exploration) for the ultimate experience of the jungle.

Tiger Tops Tented Camp: Given the nature of its surroundings and its location deep in the heart of the jungle, the tented camp requires more time to become fully operational after the rains. As usual, the tented camp will be open to guests from October 1st, 2010. The Tented Camp remains the best setting for dedicated wildlife enthusiasts. Jungle Walks with expert naturalists, bird and game watching from machans are the order of the day, as well as jungle drives and elephant safaris.

Tiger Tops Tharu Lodge: Located just outside Chitwan National Park, Tharu Lodge is the ideal base for keen bird watchers and those who are interested in both wildlife and culture. Jungle and Village walks, ox-cart rides, river safaris and the Vulture Restaurant are "must-do" activities. The Lodge is also ideal for families. Tharu Lodge opens from September 15th, 2010.

Karnali Lodge & Camp: Bardia National Park in far-west Nepal, Karnali Lodge will be open from September 15th 2010 while the tented camp inside the Bardia National Park will be operational from October 1st, 2010. Karnali Lodge & Camp integrates with both easy white-water rafting on the Bheri River and with the real, white-knuckle adventure of the Karnali River itself. Fishing for the great Golden Mahseer (catch and release only) is available. Bardia is the best place to see Wild Elephant and the endangered Gangetic Dolphin, as well as tiger and rhinoceros.
